BOB SCHEFFING

MANAGER

Now in his 3rd season as Cubs manager, Bob Scheffing helped move the club up to a 5th place finish in 1958. A firm but likable leader, he is one of the younger managers in the majors.

Bob had the club in the thick of the pennant fight in the first half of the season. Pitching difficulties, including Drabowsky's arm injury, led to a setback in August. The team finished strongly, playing above .500 in September.

Experience as manager

A fine record as manager of the Los Angeles Angels, then a Cubs affiliate, won Bob his chance in Chicago. He took over the Angels' helm in 1955. In '56 the club won the Coast League pennant by 16 games.

Bob got his first managing experience while in the Cardinals' farm system. Just 23, he was player-manager at Washington, Pa., in 1939. His catching career interrupted by a shoulder injury, Bob played first base that year. His club finished 2nd, then won the Penn State League play-offs.

Record as a player

Bob played his first pro ball at Greenwood, S.C., in 1935. The Cubs drafted him from Rochester in 1940.

Scheffing caught for the Cubs from 1941 thru '49, with 3 years off for Navy service. Top year at Wrigley Field was 1948, when he hit an even .300. A heady, dependable performer behind the plate, Bob batted .263 over his big league career, fielded .984.

Bob finished his playing career with the Cincinnati Redlegs, who got him in a trade with the Cubs in the 1950 season. He took up coaching with the St. Louis Browns in 1952. Scheffing returned to the Cubs as a coach in 1954, continuing until his move to Los Angeles. He's married, has a son.

THE COACHES

FRED FITZSIMMONS

33

Fitz brings ample experience to his job as coach of the Cubs young pitching staff. . . . A crafty right-hander, he won 217 games in his great 19-year career with the Giants and Dodgers. . . . His .889 percentage (16-2) with the Dodgers in 1940 is a League record. . . . Fred managed the Phillies in 1943-45; coached the Braves ('48) and Giants ('49-55), and managed Binghamton ('56) before joining up with the Cubs in 1957.

ROGERS HORNSBY

35

The Cubs batting coach is the man hailed in Baseball's Hall of Fame as the greatest right-hand hitter of all time. . . . Rog had a lifetime batting average of .358 in 19 National League seasons—an all-time record. . . . Four seasons of his fabulous career (1929-32) were spent with the Cubs as player and manager. . . . Rog returned to the Cubs last season and much of the team's 1958 power can be credited to his instruction.

GEORGE MYATT

Equipped with plenty of enthusiasm and baseball savvy, George coaches infield play and base-running. . . . He performed at both third base and shortstop with the Giants (1938-39) and Senators (1943-47). . . . Myatt gained managerial experience in 1948-49 at Chattanooga and Orlando. . . . He was a coach with the Senators (1950-52) and White Sox (1955-56), then joined the Cubs coaching staff in 1957.

ELVIN TAPPE

El went off the Cubs active player list in mid-season last year to become the Cubs bullpen coach. . . . He also helps instruct the catchers. . . . As a catcher Tappe was great at handling pitchers, tho he had difficulty with his hitting. . . . He joined the Cubs system at Henderson, Texas, in 1947, saw service at Wrigley Field in 3 seasons, and had a major role in the Los Angeles Angels' successful pennant drive in 1956.

THE 1959 CUBS TEAM

OUTFIELDER: Bats Left. Throws Right. Age 26. Height 6 ft., 4 in. Weight 196. Single. Home: Goldsboro, North Carolina.

Was voted the Cubs' most outstanding rookie in spring training in 1959 by the Chicago baseball writers. . . . His batting mark in the spring games hovered around the .400 level and earned him a promotion to the Cub roster, though he has had only a year and a half of experience in pro ball. . . . Broke in at Burlington in 1956, and went into military service at the end of that season. . . . Was discharged in 1958 in time to play in 89 games with Pueblo, where he hit .325 with 78 RBIs. . . . Is a graduate of Tennessee A. & I. University. . . . Played with Kansas City Monarchs in 1955 prior to signing with the Cubs organization. . . . Experienced at first base as well as in the outfield. . . . Has good speed on bases and is proving a reliable center fielder.

BOB ANDERSON

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Age 23. Height 6 ft., 4 in. Weight 200. Single. Home: Hammond, Ind.

This tall, strapping young Hoosier came up to the Cubs the latter part of last season, and pitched his first major league win on Aug. 27 against the Phillies. . . Bob went all the way, allowing just 4 hits and winning 5-2. . . Cool under fire, he specialized in relief with the Los Angeles Angels in '56, appearing in 70 games for an all-time Pacific Coast League record. . . . He had a 9-6 record at Ft. Worth when the Cubs called him up in 1958, and finished at Chicago with a 3-3 mark. . . Anderson was signed by the Cubs farm system in 1954 and started out at Cedar Rapids, then moved to Des Moines.

CATCHER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Age 27. Height 5 ft., 10 in. Weight 190. Married, has three children. Home: Snohomish, Wash.

On Jan. 24 this year, the Cubs acquired the winner of the Pacific Coast League award for Most Valuable Player of 1958 when Earl Averill was obtained from Cleveland . . . The Cubs got him in the deal in which John Briggs and Jim Bolger went to the Indians . . . Earl hit .347 for San Diego last year, 2nd highest average in the Coast League . . . And he did everything but pitch, performing as catcher, outfielder, and at first, second, third, and shortstop . . . After graduation from the University of Oregon, he made his pro debut at Reading, Pa. in 1953 and also played the '54 season there . . . He's the son of Howard Earl Averill, Cleveland outfield star of the 1930's.

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Age 28. Height 6 ft., 1 in. Weight 170. Married. Home: Chicago.

Here is the Most Valuable Player in the National League, winner of the 1958 award voted by the Baseball Writers Association of America. . . Ernie copped almost every hitting record in sight. . . He led both leagues in home runs with 47, in runs batted in with 129, and in total bases with 379. . . His .313 batting average was tops on the Cubs and 6th in the League. . . He also led the National League in slugging percentage with .614. . . Banks was the only player in the League to appear in all his team's games. . . And he has a streak of 343 consecutive games going, longest current streak in the National League. . . The Cubs purchased Ernie's contract from the Kansas City Monarchs toward the end of the 1953 season.

JOHN BUZHARDT

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Age 22. Height 6 ft., 2½ in. Weight 195. Married, has a son. Home: Prosperity, S. C.

One of the brightest young prospects on the Cubs pitching staff, John won his first big league game in a relief appearance against the Phillies on Sept. 16, 1958. . . . Later he started and won two games, both against the Dodgers, by scores of 3-2 and 2-1. . . . This gave him a perfect 3-0 mark for the season, with an impressive 1.88 earned run average. . . . John was signed by the Cubs farm system in 1954 after starring in high school and American Legion ball. . . He pitched at Hickory, N.C., and Gainesville, Okla. in his first professional season.

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Age 36. Height 6 ft. Weight 180. Married, has four children. Home: Lake Charles, Louisiana.

Obtained from the Cardinals on May 20 last season, Al more than lived up to his reputation for spirited, aggressive play. . . . The veteran third baseman batted .295, 3 points better than his lifetime average over 11 National League seasons. . . . The Braves, then in Boston, signed Dark for a large bonus off the campus of Louisiana State, where he starred in baseball and football. . . . Al has sparked 3 pennant winners—the Braves in '48 and the Giants in '51 and '54. . . . He has played in 3 All Star games. . . . His entire career has been in the majors except for the 1947 season, when he was with the Milwaukee Brewers. A versatile performer, Al has also starred at shortstop and second base. . . . And during the current season he has filled in at times at first base.

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Age 23. Height 6 ft., 2 in. Weight 190. Married. Home: Wilson, Conn.

Regarded as one of the finest young pitchers in baseball, Moe suffered an arm injury that limited him to one victory in the 2nd half of the 1958 season. . . . Even so, he had 9 wins and leads Cub starting pitchers in lifetime National League wins with 24. . . . Signed to a bonus contract after he had starred at Trinity College, Drabowsky came direct to the Cubs in the 1956 season. . . . In his first full major league season, he had a 13-15 record for '57. . . . He struck out 89 batters from July 30 to the end of that season and a total of 170 for the year. . . . Moe was born in Poland and was brought to the U.S. when he was 3 years old.

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Age 22. Height 6 ft., 1 in. Weight 185. Single. Home: Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dick showed signs of regaining the class of his brilliant 1957 rookie season after his early season form was hampered by injuries in 1958. . . . He wound up the season by again leading the team in strikeouts with 127, though his won-and-lost total had sagged. . . . Dick pitched 3 shutouts and struck out 170 in his first major league season. . . . Drott signed with the Cubs farm system in 1954. . . . He made his bow with Cedar Rapids of the Three-I League. . . . Young Dick also played at Des Moines, Burlington and Los Angeles (PCL) before moving up to the Cubs. . . . In September of last season he enrolled for military service in the National Guard 6-month trainee program. . . . Troubled with a sore arm in his early appearances this season, Drott was placed on the Cubs' disabled list on May 8 for a period of 30 days.

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Age 30. Height 6 ft., 1 in. Weight 180. Married. Home: Winnetka, Ill.

In 1958 Don broke the all-time Cubs record for most games pitched, appearing in 69 games. . . He led both major leagues in this department. . . And the wiry relief pitcher's 2.88 earned run average was best on the Cubs staff. . . Don was originally a Cubs farm system product, starting out at Elizabethton in 1948. . . He won 17 and lost 6 at Los Angeles in 1955 before being dealt to the Dodgers. . . He was assigned to St. Paul in 1956, then came up to Brooklyn for the start of the '57 season. . . . Don returned to Chicago on May 23, 1957, when the Cubs reacquired him from the Dodgers in exchange for Jackie Collum and Vito Valentinetti. . . . Don promptly established himself as the mainstay of the Cubs' bullpen, appearing in 39 games that season, followed by his record-setting 69 appearances in 1958.

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Age 25. Height 5 ft., 10 in. Weight 175. Married, has two daughters. Home: Cumberland, Rhode Island.

In his first full season with the Cubs last year, Johnny filled in handily at both second and third. . . He was brought up near the end of the 1957 season from Memphis, where he had hit .301 while playing 147 games at shortstop. . . Goryl started out with the Braves organization at Bluefield, W. Va., in 1951. . . . The Los Angeles Angels drafted him from Wichita after the '55 season and he was assigned to Tulsa before moving to Memphis in 1957. . . . At Memphis Johnny played mostly at shortstop and hit .301 and batted in 86 runs, leading to his promotion to the Cubs in the latter part of the 1957 season.

The Cubs signed this veteran right-hander on May 13 after his release by Pittsburgh. . . . Now in his 12th major-league season, Porterfield has pitched for the Yankees, Senators, and Red Sox in the American League, and the Pirates in the National League. . . . Began his baseball career in the Yankee organization in 1946, and was brought up to the Yankees in 1948. . . . His best year was 1953, with the Washington Senators, when he posted a 22-10 record, leading the American League in victories, complete games (24), and shutouts (9), and was named the top pitcher in the league by The Sporting News. . . . He played at Radford, Va., Norfolk and Newark before moving up to the Yankees.

ELMER SINGLETON

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Age 38. Height 6 ft., 2 in. Weight 190. Married, has two sons. Home: Ogden, Utah.

Handicapped by an arm injury in 1957, Singleton made a comeback last season with a 13-12 record at Portland. . . Returning to the Cubs in the last week of the '58 season, he pitched two scoreless relief appearances. . . Elmer had 5 outstanding seasons in the Pacific Coast League, with top seasons at Seattle in '55 (19-12) and '56 (18-8). . . The Redlegs bought his contract after the '56 season, then traded him to the Cubs with Ray Jablonski in the deal that sent Hacker, Hoak, and Whisenant to Cincy. . . Singleton started his professional career at Wenatchee in 1940.

CATCHER. Bats Left. Throws Right. Age 26. Height 6 ft., 1 in. Weight 185. Married. Home: Woodruff, South Carolina.

Filling the Cubs' need for a left-hand hitting catcher, Sammy more than lived up to the scouting reports that caused the Cubs to go after him, along with Taylor Phillips, in the deal that sent Rush, Kaiser, and Haas, to the Braves. . . Taylor's performance in his freshman year led to his selection as catcher on the Sporting News All Star Rookie Team. . . Sam started out with Hi-Point-Thomasville of the North Carolina State League in 1950, but has had just 4 years in professional ball. . . He stayed out of baseball in '51, and spent the next 4 years in the Navy. . . At Guam and Hawaii, Sammy was a service sensation, blasting out 21 home runs in 88 games during 1954 and 1955.

TONY TAYLOR

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Age 23. Height 5 ft., 9 in. Weight 170. Single. Home: Havana, Cuba.

This fleet young infielder stole 21 bases for the Cubs in his freshman year, highest mark for a Cubs player since 1940. . . He hit above his previous Texas League average in 1957, and was improving as the year went along. . . And he was named as second baseman on the Sporting News All Star Rookie Team . . . The Cubs got Tony by draft from the Minneapolis roster of the Giants' farm system, after he had spent the 1957 season with Dallas. . . Sure-handed and strong-armed, Tony can play third base and shortstop, as well as second. . . He led the Cuban League in hitting this past winter.

OUTFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Age 35. Height 6 ft., 2 in. Weight 190. Married, has a daughter. Home: Basking Ridge, N. Y.

Besides answering the Cubs' center field defensive problem in 1958, Bobby enjoyed his best year at the plate since '53. . . His 21 home runs raised his lifetime total to 248, and made it 8 times that he has hit 20 or more home runs in his National League career. . . With 82 runs batted in, Thomson raised his lifetime total to 954. . . And this is among the tops in the League despite the fact that Bob saw limited action in several seasons due to injuries. . . The towering Scot began his pro career at Bristol, Va., in 1942 and came up to the big time to stay in 1946 when he joined the New York Giants. . . He hit one of the most famous home runs in history to win the 1951 pennant play-off game for the Giants over the Dodgers.

OUTFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Age 26. Height 6 ft., 3 in. Weight 195. Married. Home: Chicago.

This speedy young outfielder really came into his own in the 1958 season. . . Hitting .304, he raised his average 67 points, which was the greatest improvement of any National League hitter last year. . . What's more, he showed plenty of power, clouting 24 home runs. . . This was more than double his best previous homer output. . . Lee became a Cub on May 1, 1957, in the deal with the Pirates which also brought Dale Long to Chicago in exchange for Gene Baker and Dee Fondy . . . He had signed with the Pittsburgh organization in '51, playing his first season at Modesto, Calif.

Items of Interest on the '59 Cubs

Average age of the 1959 Cubs is 27.7 . . . with 15 players aged 27 or younger. . . Joe Schaffernoth at 21 is the youngest, and Elmer Singleton, 39 in June, is the "pappy" of the squad.

Members of the team were born in 16 different States of the U.S. . . from Rhode Island to California, Minnesota to Texas. . . Illinois, Ohio and Texas produced the most Cubs, with 3 each. . . And the international look is provided by 3 foreign lands—Scotland (Bobby Thomson), Poland (Moe Drabowsky), and Cuba (Tony Taylor).

Playing in 767 games over the last full seasons plus part of the 1953 season, Ernie Banks at age 28 is the senior member of the Cubs in years of service with the club. . . Six Cubs are in their first season—George Altman, Joe Schaffernoth, Earl Averill, Seth Morehead, Irv Noren, Bob Porterfield. . . Five others who joined up during the 1958 season are launching their first full season with the Cubs—Bob Anderson, John Buzhardt, Al Dark, Bill Henry, Jim Marshall.

No less than 22 of the '59 Cubs are 6 ft. or taller. . . All but one of the pitchers are over 6 ft., and the exception (Dave Hillman) is right up there at 5 ft., 11 in. . . Tallest Cubs are Dale Long and Bob Anderson at 6 ft., 4 in. . . Dale is also the huskiest at 218 lbs.

Cubs 1958 Season Highlights

The Cubs led both major leagues in home runs with 182. . . This broke their previous team high of 171, set in 1930 . . . The heavy-hitting Cubs also led the National League in total bases (2,253), and slugging percentage (.426).

With 5 players clouting 20 or more homers, the Cubs tied the major league record. . . Ernie Banks had 47, Walt Moryn 26, Lee Walls 24, Bobby Thomson 21, and Dale Long 20. . . The same 5 players were among the top 15 in the League in slugging percentage. . . No other club placed more than two in this select circle.

The Cubs team batting average of .265 was the highest since the pennant-winning year of 1945, when the team hit .277.

Selection of Ernie Banks as Most Valuable Player in the National League in 1958 marks the 4th time a Cub has won the award since the Baseball Writers Assn. took over the selections in 1931. . . Other Cub winners: Gabby Hartnett (1935), Phil Cavarretta (1945), and Hank Sauer (1952).

Don Elston was the National League's busiest pitcher, appearing in 69 games. . . This is a new all-time Cubs record, besting Turk Lown's mark of 67 in 1957.

Tony Taylor's total of 21 stolen bases was the top Cubs mark in 18 years. . . Tony tied Stan Hack's 1940 total.

Longest Cub hitting streak was 14 straight games, achieved by both Moryn and Banks. . . Longest team win streak: 5 games.

Most runs scored in a game came in the 15-2 win against Los Angeles on April 24.

The Cubs placed two players on the Sporting News All Star Rookie team—Sam Taylor, catcher, and Tony Taylor, second baseman. . . Glen Hobbie was named Chicago Rookie of the Year by the Chicago Baseball Writers' Association.

Most hits by the team in one game was 20 against Milwaukee pitching on July 26 (Cubs won 7-4). . . Twice the Cubs got 5 homers in a game, vs. the Dodgers May 30 (Cubs won 10-8) and vs. the Braves, June 10. (Cubs won 9-6.)

Glen Hobbie led the Cubs staff in victories and winning percentage with a 10-6 record. . . Don Elston had the lowest earned run average—2.88.

Wrigley Field—Home of the Cubs

Throughout the world of sports, the home park of the Chicago Cubs has long been famous as "beautiful Wrigley Field."

Located in a residential section on Chicago's North Side, the park provides 36,755 comfortable seats for Cub fans. It is located at the corner of Clark and Addison Sts.

Constant program of improvement

The Chicago National League Ball Club takes pride in presenting its games in comfortable, attractive surroundings. Every effort is made to keep the stands spic and span, and the playing field in finest possible condition. To help provide a park-like atmosphere, the walls are covered with ivy vines instead of advertising signs. Nor is there any advertising on the big scoreboard, one of the most informative in baseball.

The club conducts a constant program of improvement and modernization. A new box seat deck was built several years ago. In 1958, new concrete slab facing was installed on much of the exterior. Extensive new painting, modernized entrance and new ticket windows at Addison and Sheffield are among major projects in the 1959 program.

Early history of the park

The Cubs moved to this location from their West side park in 1916. The site had been the playing field of the Chicago Whales of the old Federal League. The grandstand was enlarged from 14,000 seats to 20,000 in 1922-23, and the park was double-decked in 1926-27.

The club put in wider seats in the boxes and grandstand in 1938. This provided great comfort for the fans, reducing the seating capacity by several thousands.

For some years, the ball park was named Cubs Park. In 1926 it was re-named Wrigley Field, after the late William Wrigley Jr., who headed the club from 1919 until he passed away in 1932. The Cubs won two pennants under his leadership, and four more under Phil Wrigley, present-day owner and president.

How to get tickets

Reserved box seat tickets for all games through the end of the season available by mail. Just send your order to Ticket Manager, Wrigley Field, Chicago 13, Ill. 25,000 grandstand and bleacher tickets go on sale the morning of every game at 10:30.

You can also buy box seat tickets in advance at the Wrigley Field ticket office at Addison and Sheffield; at Bond's downtown store; and at United Air Lines ticket offices.

How to get to the park

Located at Clark and Addison Sts., 3600 North, 1000 West. Clark-Wentworth and Addison buses take you to main gates. North Side "L" trains take you to ¼ block from ball park (Addison station).

The flags of Wrigley Field

Old Glory always flies from the centerfield masthead, highest point in the park.

Before and during each game, eight pennants, one for each club in the National League, fly from the yardarms in the order of the League standings on the morning of the game—the first place team's pennant on top at the left, the 8th place team's pennant on the bottom at the right.

The Chicago Cubs flag—red and white on a blue background—displays 16 red stars representing the Club's 16 National League Championships. The two blue stars represent the Club's two World Championships.

Cubs Training Field at Mesa

Developing the Cubs of the Future

The Cubs farm system is a streamlined organization designed to help young players get ahead fast. Here the young prospect gets every chance to move up to the majors as quickly as his ability warrants.

This modern program of player development means real opportunity for young men ambitious to make good in baseball. It also assures a stream of personnel for winning Cubs teams.

Main features of the program

Important features of the Cubs development program include:

(1) Compact, streamlined farm system. Consists of 7 clubs. Large enough to take care of every level of a player's development. Small enough to make sure that a promising player won't get lost in the shuffle.

(2) Experienced guidance and training. Managers of Cubs farm system clubs are specially selected because they like to work with young players. And because they have the know-how to really help develop a young man's talent.

(3) Skilled instructional staff. The training talents of the farm-system managers are supplemented by instructional specialists.

(4) Spring rookie school. In advance of the major league training system, Cubs prospects who are just starting out are selected for a special 3-week training period in Arizona. They work directly under the major league manager and coaches.

Faster development made possible

At this special school, young players get real major league attention. Included are those with no professional experience who have recently signed into the Cubs organization. Also included are some who have just completed their first year of professional play in the Cubs farm system.

The Cubs manager, Bob Scheffing, is instructional director of the school. Also working with the young players are top-notch instructors like Rogers Hornsby, Fred Fitzsimmons, Vedic Himsl, George Myatt, Elvin Tappe, Lou Klein, and Buck O'Neil.

Training in Arizona

The special rookie school is held early in February at the Cubs major league training base at Mesa, Arizona. Thirty-seven Cubs farm system players took part in the 1959 camp.

The basic idea is to start young players right by drilling them in the way baseball is played in the majors.

Commenting on the results of the 1959 rookie school, John Holland, Cubs vice-president, said:

"We believe the players learned so much in this camp that they will have accelerated their professional development tremendously. I'm sure that most of them can go out and do well in a higher classification league than would have otherwise been possible."

Supervision of development program

The Cubs player development program is under the over-all supervision of Mr. Holland, one of the youngest and most aggressive of the top executives in baseball today. Gene Lawing, another capable young baseball man, directs farm systems operations. Charlie Grimm, whose great record as player and manager is known everywhere, keeps special tabs on young players.

Highlights of Cubs History

Now in their 84th season, the Cubs are the only National League club today that has operated continuously in the same city ever since the League was founded in 1876 as baseball's first major league.

In 83 National League seasons, the Cubs have played 11,807 games. They won 6,291 of them for an all-time percentage of .539. Only other club with more than 6,000 wins was the New York Giants (now at San Francisco) with 6,088 in 76 seasons.

Founder of the Cubs (first known as the White Stockings) was A. G. Spalding, pitcher and manager, who later headed the National League. He also established the famous sporting goods firm bearing his name.

Cubs in the Baseball Hall of Fame are:

Grover Cleveland Alexander	Clark C. Griffith
Adrian C. ("Cap") Anson	Charles ("Gabby") Hartnett
Roger Bresnahan	Rogers Hornsby
Mordecai Brown	Mike ("King") Kelly
Frank Chance	Rabbit Maranville
Dizzy Dean	A. G. Spalding
Hugh Duffy	Joe Tinker
Johnny Evers	Joe McCarthy (manager only)

The Cubs have won 16 National League championships, second only to the Giants, with 17.

All-time major league record for games won in a season was set by the Cubs in 1906 with 116 victories that season.

Under the leadership of Charlie Grimm, the Cubs won 21 games in a row in 1935 to clinch the pennant that year.

Ernie Banks holds the all-time major league record for grand slam home runs in a season, hitting 5 homers with the bases loaded in 1955.

Hack Wilson set the all-time National League record for home runs in one season in 1930, hitting 56 round-trippers. Hack batted in 190 runs that season, an all-time major league record.

Over 23 National League seasons, Rogers Hornsby hit for a .358 average, highest in League history.
